

DISCLAIMER

FROM THE LADY MESSIAH

The following story contains sexually graphic and explicit material and is a work of fiction. If you are offended by sexually explicit stories featuring often group sex, incest, sex between minors and adults, or other situation, please check the story codes below before reading further. Some of this stories content may be disturbing to some people; especially for conservative and religious folk out there; if you are one of these, then you may wish to look away now; if not, enjoy the story. This author may, or may not, support the beliefs described in the flowing text; and holds the belief that your thoughts are your own; your beliefs, philosophies and actions are your own. This story and characters are purely fictional and any resemblance to any persons or event (living or dead) is purely coincidental. If you are a minor, and are interested in reading this type of material and if you still live in a free nation; then by all means, read the story. Because let's face it; if you are a minor, and you have came across this disclaimer; you have already ignored it and moved on. So you might as well do what you want.

This story originated at http://www.asstr.org/~The_Lady_Messiah/. The author hereby grants readers permission to download this story for the sole purpose of offline reading. Please contact the author at theladymessiah@gmail.com if you would like to repost this story.

STORY TITLE: Introduction (A Brief History)
Part of the Futures Past Series
AUTHOR: The Lady Messiah
EDITED BY: Wulfstan
COPYRIGHT: COPYRIGHT ©2014; ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

PAGE COUNT: 12
WORD COUNT: 4,473

STORY CODES: pedo, no-sex

A BRIEF HISTORY

The Tale of the Founding of a Liberal Nation
Finalized through the Saxton Uprising

Written by:
Jennifer Saxton; Age 11
Grade 6: History Report

It now has been seven years since the end of the last civil war; there was been three since the United States of America's founding in 1776; the year is now 2076 and much has changed.

The second civil war failed to resolve our nations many disputes; things like: all 'Fortune 500' corporations as well as Christian churches being granted voting rights and receiving tax exempt status; the non-ending abortion debate; the on-going failures of our instituting the death penalty; the mass sanctioned murder of illegal immigrates as well as refugee children; the constant wars being fought on foreign soil; the Bush/Cheney 'Nukular' Weapons Scandal when found out that they were the ones who supplied Isis with nuclear weapons and not the Russians as was claimed on Fox News [Who the fuck allowed George "little retard" Bush and Richard "dick head" Cheney access to nuclear weapons in the years following their presidency? Who, I ask you?]; and all those other issues that our "elected officials" refused to resolve while in office.

In the end, however, it did resolve all those things; maybe not through actual resolutions, but by permanently dividing our nation in two.

The United States of America saw more bloodshed in the five years it took to fight our nations second civil war; more than any other war in global history. Over 5.5 billion people dead upon its end due to the Conservatives war methodology - kill everyone. The Geneva Convention be damned; at least as far as the Conservatives were concerned. Use of both chemical and biological weapons were fair game; as was torture and summary executions. Conservatives had absolutely no reservations about killing so many people; as their fight, in their own words, was a battle in the name of their one true god. How quickly they reverted back to their 'good ole days' of burning people alive; drowning and beheadings. It did not matter who you were; all heretics, but mainly us Liberals were, in the eyes of their "loving god" subjects to the Hands of God (the Conservative military elite).

We, on the other hand, mainly refrained from such horrific tactics; relying on our intelligence rather than on our primitive, act first then think mentality.

By the end, most outside observers would have said that we liberals were on the brink of losing the war; that all changed when our scientists release the ultimate weapon upon the Conservatives.

No; we did not nuke them. No; we did not use deadly or poisonous nerve agents against them. No, we did not even release an unending swarm of locust upon their nation or kill their first born sons like they would have liked (oh, their poor turmoil; fucking conservative Armageddon propaganda bullshit).

What we did do was far more devious. What we did do was end the war once and for all; we ended all the bloodshed on both sides, for both sides. What we did was use a bomb, a genome bomb; the XHL-988 genome bomb to be exact. This virtually ended the war overnight, with the Conservatives mostly just giving up the fight.

If one was so inclined to do so; one should read the Conservatives 'Ut Care Manual' (the 2055 edition) for a historical account of the final means in which we liberals took to finally force an end to the war; but, for now, I digress. The war officially ended in 2029.

From the ashes of the empirical nation, the United States of America, came two new nations; one became a nation comprising mostly of anti-theist, egalitarian-centric liberals (which I am one of); and the other, a nation comprised of mentally simple, sheep fucking, cumming in their pants anytime they hear the word god, Zionist-type conservative fucktards.

Our side was for social responsibility and compassion; and their side was for profiteering; imposing what they still call "god's will" onto their citizens; and..., fucking sheep. At least that is how I see it.

It took nearly a year, but a treaty had finally been devise.

The Liberals Nation took everything north of the equator; as well as Canada, Alaska (the Conservatives had already burned what was left of Canada and Alaska after the Keystone Pipeline disaster to the ground; the only real loss to them was the self erected, tax payer paid, presidential Sarah Palin monument. Just another, "what the fuck"); we also gained claim to the entire California territories.

The Conservatives took everything south of North Carolina, including Georgia, Texas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Arizona. The Conservatives were also granted claim to all the conquered South American territories that they seized during our civil war.

A wall was erected from coast to coast by both sides, with a quarter mile separating the borders of our two nations; this area soon became called, "the Death Zone". Both Conservative military and Liberal militia personnel were posted approximately every hundred yards or so along both sides of the border. Only those with a properly issued travel passes were allowed to cross the divide.

Over a period of thirty or so years; relations between the liberal people and that of the conservatives seemed to relax somewhat; we had even began some limited trade agreements with the Conservatives. Liberals developed a strong want for Ut meat and Aged Havana Girl Cigars and the Conservatives were all whinny and desperate for the basics like purified water and a sources of clean renewable energy.

All that ended when the Conservatives bombed our Venezuela embassy in 2063, with the use of both biological and chemical weapons in clear violation of the North America Cease in Hostility Treaty. This unprovoked attack in essence nullified the treaty thereby reinstated our previously fought civil war with one another.

And although the hostilities were limited to the country of Venezuela; we were still technically in another civil war; which really was not a new civil war but just a long pause of our second.

The weapons used by the Conservatives caused the killing and/or mutilation all those within the embassy's walls (including my aunt Sarah). Over 600 children, most of which were children under ten years of age; several dozen of which were just newborns; were amongst the casualties

Why were these children there in the first place you may ask? Well, because only a few days earlier, some unknown group went into their tribal village and slaughtered all that they could. The children were the refugees of just one of the larger Neophyte tribes. A tribe, that up until that point, had lived a rather peacefully existence; an existence that had gone on for thousands of years in the Amazon rainforest, unseen by any outsiders until their discovery in 2055.

In this case, it was not the Liberals that the Conservatives were wanting to kill; it was the Neophyte's themselves that the Conservatives desired to sanction. The Government for Spiritual Salvation (the conservative government) had taken a vow to wipe out the entire Neophyte tribes; as they were considered an abomination to god. The killing of liberal heathens was just a bonus for many of the Hands.

For their crusade to genocide the entire Neophyte people and for their attack on our embassy; we went to war... Again.

When the word of the embassy attack was received by our government managers, the call was made for the launch of over 500,000 unmanned patrol and protect drones; most of which were directed to fly over major Conservative cities and known militaries installation.

Unlike the drones used by the conservatives, our drones would have only been used if absolutely necessary; and although the Conservative government was quick to deny any involvement with the attacks on our embassy; they had attempted, many times, to shoot down our drones whenever one entered certain military airspace (they did not seem to be interested in civilian air space); all their attempts failed to do so.

At the same time that we launched drones over the main Conservative territory, we launched similar drones over Venezuela; where we had quickly quashed the Conservative militants.

Our quick response and our show of supremacy in the air had the leaders in the conservative government scared shitless. They adamantly denied any involvement in the attacks on our embassy, but when we threatened to end all trade relations with them and their people; they finally admitted that their holy war with the Neophyte tribes. They claimed that the attack on the embassy, however, was not authorized.

After six months of renegotiating the new terms of our treaty with each other; our leaders finally agreed to begin trade again with one another.

The newly edited version of the treaty demanded that the Conservatives grant us the ability to inspect, unrestricted, all of their laboratories and warehouses for stockpiles of nuclear, chemical and/or biological WMD's; they were to forever end their holy crusade against the Neophyte people; and further, they were to begin exporting live Ut livestock to the Liberal Nation at a greatly decreased price of course. In exchange; they would continue to receive our humanitarian aid of purified water; renewable energy and so on.

When we liberals established our new Government of Liberty and Freedom in the year 2026; the constitution that we had thoughtfully constructed, made it very clear and straight-forward, that all citizens are equal in our new nation, regardless of their race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation and expression, national origin, age, disability, ancestry, place of birth, gender, marital status, ancestry, criminal record, genetic information, ethnicity, military service, drug use (except when job safety is an issue), national origin, etc. Further; the constitution put in place safeguards which were to prevent the corruption of our government and its infringement upon our personal liberties.

This was not the case however; because within a matter of thirty years; our free nation saw a foothold taken place within our government by those with both personal, spiritual or conservative agendas.

As a result, many of our rights and liberties were being eroded away from us through, and the reemergence of greed, corruption and the implementation of the personal morality laws based upon the beliefs of a very few within our nation began to take place.

How, you may ask? Because simply we allowed it. When the government began imposing upon the citizens of our nation their draconian decrees of what they considered lawfully immoral; we did nothing.

With each Act we did not stand up and fight against; was an Act which was designed to specifically subvert the 'rule in the people' clause of our Constitution; the same clause which had given sovereignty to the individual citizen. With the implementation of these secret decrees, a secret police force was able to be created so that they would be enforce without question. We were all royally fucked.

Not that it mattered much; all the signs were there that this was already going on; we simply did not take the action required of us.

Some, argue that we want to be ruled over; have our daily likes controlled, like that of the Ut. But the truth was that we had not recovered from the billions upon billions of our liberal brethren being snuffed out of existence by the wages of our civil war; we simply were not yet up to the task of fighting the enemy within.

Even though the Acts of Parliament were secret; eventually there reached a point where these Acts could not continue to remain a secret. It became to obvious to us Citizens that many of their friends and family members went missing without any explanation. Eventually the word got out about which of our liberties were no longer our liberties and what happens to those who don't comply with the new morality laws.

Many bans were put into place under the guise of "for the good of society"; of the worst of these bans were the bans on a person's sexual freedom; once again, it became illegal to have sex outside the confines of marriage; as well as bans on prostituting yourself or going to prostitutes were then made illegal. Additionally, a ban on all forms of public nudity were instituted; bans on free speech in the media and all public protests were enacted; bans on any illicit drug use; as well as many others which imposed the shaky morality of a few upon the masses.

Once the word was out on these secret laws; the government found that their war on the people much, much, easier to pursue. Now, they could run their propoganda campaigns openly, and work to gain the support of the few others whom happened to agree with them to some extent; and with each new recruit they were able to brainwash; they were able to gain ten more recruits to brainwash in to joining their cause.

Why is it that we can never learn? It is said, that those that do not study history, are bound to repeat history... But, that is not true. Even if you study history, a few fucking idiots will drag the rest to repeat it anyways.

The government took great strides in vilifying all sexual activities outside the bonds of their definition of marriage; but nothing like what they did to the people who refused to hide their pedophilia from the world; like it was some sort of shameful and disgusting act; for these people, they spent trillions, in tax payers money, to run their propaganda campaigns.

The few "elected" that seemed to be running the show, as it were, did everything they could to stoke the fires of hate; convincing most of the nation, that what they themselves had been engaging in with their own children or with other children were an affront; and something they should be ashamed of.

Eventually, most of society, began to believe the news stories (you know the ones that cited scientific studies from the late twentieth century; science that had already been debunked decades prior; yes, those studies); and with that came the many modern day witch hunts, the kangaroo courts and the imprisonment that often ended with the murder of those convicted. Hundreds of thousands of men and women alike were murdered while they were supposed to be serving their sentences.

Because of morality laws, convicted pedophiles made up the largest segment of the prison population; and because of the hate campaign, they were not beyond the cruelty of guards and the courts turning a blind eye to the thousands of inmate on inmate murders which had been occurring; or the late night beatings and others forms of torture conducted by the guards themselves. When it came to the pedophiles, there was nothing that anyone could do that would have warranted criminal charges; in fact; government secretly supported the murder of pedophiles; and only spoke of the good that had been done, when one was killed.

There were many causalities brought to our free and peaceful people prior to the Sexton Uprising; which was the event which eventually open the nations eyes to the truth regarding our governments morality laws and what their true agenda had been; and where billions of citizens decided to get off their collective asses and out of their dazed stoopers and finally take action. One of these causalities was my daddy who was arrested, tried and sentenced to life in prison for engaging in a sexually loving relationship with his offspring and not hiding it behind closed doors; and where he was eventually murdered because of the government sanctioned hate campaigns.

My name is Jessica Saxton; I am now eleven years old; and it was my public cry to action that had found the support our nation needed to grow a pair of nuts and take back our government.

If we, all are to be guaranteed equality, as we are by our god given rights and our constitution; then we must all be willing to take equality right up the asshole, if necessary, and without exception. We must all accept the freedom of one's personal choice, or have none at all.

I had just turned seven years old; it was the year 2072, when I gave that statement on the front steps of our nation's capital. The statement was vulgar, yes; but it did its unintended job and gained the support our nation needed to eventually take back our government. I am not certain if there would have been a similar response if the person who gave it was older than I was at the time.

Amongst the first laws and policies to be abolished upon the conclusion of the second civil war, were all the laws which restricted citizens' from their personal freedoms; for those had been made law, in no small part, due to the demands made by the religious establishments of the time. When our nation took a critical look at all these laws our citizens saw that many of these laws were based religious morality and not actual science. if the law lacked a scientific basis to keep it was eliminated.

Most of the laws to be thrown out had to do with either drugs, sex or freedom of personal expression (rock and roll). However, some of the laws only had to do with restricting and forbidding the freedom of the youth population.

Apparently back in the first quarter of the twenty-first century; youth were prevented from voting, being able to determine what happens to them when they lay dying from a horrible disease, or when they were impregnated by a rapist, when they wanted to engage in sexual actives with friends, family members or anyone else of their choosing; or even when they fought and died in the many corporate and religious wars of the time, were forbidden from even drinking a beer or smoking a bit of weed.

Though many of these unjust laws were gotten rid of completely; some laws remained, such law, in particular remained; the Violent Crime Control and Enforcement Act (also known largely as Megan's Law) could not done away outright; they did serve some good for society; though not without first being rewritten to reflect the real science.

In regards to the Megan's Law sex offender watch lists; the law was rewritten so that if you were not convicted of a brutally violent and undesired rape, kidnapping, or murder; and if you were still alive; you were eligible to petition the court and have your name removed and your record expunged from any and all criminal database of any wrong doing in those regards. Even those who had long ago died, had their advocates; and were allowed to eventually have their namesakes cleared of any wrong doing.

With many of the old morality and sex crime laws abolished after the second civil war; our liberal nation witnessed the sharpest drop in youth crimes and suicides in over one-hundred years of related recorded history; the Conservatives, on the other hand, saw a extreme increase in both instances (and that is not even considering the demographics of all the children in prison camps for sexually deviant children).

Scientists studied the phenomenon for many years after the numbers began to show this drastic decrease in crime and suicide and finally came to the conclusion that the reason for the drop was due to the fact that children were now allowed to practice their sexual nature (you would really need to read all the studies; I surely cannot include them in this report; they are far too technical; even for me) openly. The studies showed that children who received sexual affection from their parents, and who did not receive the shame therapy which was common practice in the early twenty-first century, had much higher self esteems than their counterparts; they performed better in school and developed much stronger friendships with others. The scientists also concluded, that left to their own devices, over 90 percent of the liberal population was actively engaging in one form of pedophilia or another. The scientific community believed that this was not just explicit to the Liberal Nation, but was human nature in general; that in most other nations or in many tribal societies where there is no "one true god", pedophilia was prevalently a natural occurrence.

When the morality laws were later created (circa 2040); children were forced once again to be neglected and abused by their friends and family members; for those parents whom complied with the decrees; their children began to shows signs out disruptive and destructive behavioral outbursts. Not only that, but the parents themselves who would not have otherwise been physically abusive to their children, began to show signs of potential violence; without the sexual relationships with their children, these parents loss the connections and bonds they had with their children.

Prisons began to see a steady increase, and the GDP of our nation saw a sharp decrease. It was clear to many science-minded people that there was a collation between the two; but those in government refused to accept the facts, so nothing changed.

Everything from simple theft and home invasions to school shootings and serial killings went up during this period.

It was not allowed for scientists to conduct or even publish the research they already had on childhood sexuality; a moratorium had been decreed against any entity from even speaking on matters found to be immoral by the government; punishable by possible life in prison.

As a result, no news media, magazine or blog spoke out against the lies being said regarding pedophilia. At least not until my daddy was murdered, and I refused to comply with the governments demands.

When I went on national television and gave my speech on the front steps of the capital; I did so knowing that, even at seven years of age; I could have easily receive a criminal punishment. I did not care; my daddy was dead; he was not going to be around to love or even fuck me anymore, and I was pissed off at the whole fucking world; but more so at my fellow citizens, who all sat back and did nothing to prevent such atrocities from occurring in the first place. I assumed that certain people in the media agreed, and that was why my speech aired uncensored.

After the speech, my family and I went home, expecting that all of us maybe going to jail very quickly. When our arrest, or at least mine never happened, we were very surprised to find out why.

It was my aunt Nikole who called to inform us that my speech had not only found time in the national news spotlight; but was also leading news on all global networks. In a matter of a single day, Jennifer Saxton had become a folk hero for our entire nation.

In the days which followed my speech; ten million of our citizens descended upon the capital; all calling for the heads of our former heads of state and any whom had been complicit in their agenda.

Realizing that they hadn't a chance in hell to remain in control, an attempt to flee the capital was made. A attempt that turned out to be futile; as all were quickly snatched up by the militia, arrested and held until they could face a military tribunal (the courts that govern acts of treason by those elected into our government).

Not a single bullet was fired; not a single bomb dropped; not a single explosive used; and not a single drop of blood was spilled during the Saxton Uprising; those who had been in charge knew they had no real power to stop the revolt brought on by their tyranny; the militia was duty bound to the citizens, not them.

An interim government was established to temporarily manage the duties of those that had been previously elected under false pretense. Twenty-two million citizens had eventually made it to the capital so that they could support and so that they could cast their vote in the chosen interim government members in the emergency election.

The chosen were made up of scientists, doctors, teachers, union leaders, etc.

Oh, and me... Yes me. Because of the speech I gave, I was written in as the most popular choice of the chosen ones. And, as it turned out; the position I held was not just that of a figure head; I had been granted real power; real power to effect positive changes in our nation.

Not only did I become the youngest person to ever serve in any civil government; at only seven years of age; but I was the youngest to also be appointed Prefect of Parliament (the highest position there is; kind of like, Speaker of the House).

It was the interim governments duty to oversee the countermanding of all the unconstitutional decrees which had been made over the previous thirty years; to weed out all those who were implicit and who had served the secret police force; to arrange for every former elected government member and their lackeys to be given a fair military tribunal; and to oversee the nations next election, which was to occur in the eight months following.

Over 88,000 men and women were brought to trial in accordance with the previously established JAG laws; most of which pleaded their cases before the tribunals and were released under strict conditions of compliance. However, for those, who had become known as "The Core"; only six chose imprisonment over banishment.

I did not sit in government long enough to see the entire lot of tribunals; but I did sit there long enough to witness the final punishments being doled out on the Core; and that gave me just enough strength to be able to move on with my life. I know there are thousands upon thousands of sons and daughters who would not get the same satisfaction I did and for them, I empathize.

Now, our nation is once again strong; and it is my greatest wish that we all keep it that way; never again can we just sit on our asses and let evil take control. I would rather die.

Oh, and don't ask me why 167 members of the Core had chosen the possibility of a slow painful death nearly assured by banishment over that of imprisonment; perhaps it was because they feared receiving the same justice they promoted be done to pedophiles like my daddy while in prison themselves. Turns out that most of those that are in prison, hate the government (especially the one they created) much more than they hated the pedophiles they put there.

The End