APOLOGIES

I have recently (like the last couple of days) started using FTP to load my files into this wonderful website, which I have used for several years, both as a writer and reader.

However in some cases I have used the wrong text format so one or two of my tales are either garbled or in text strung out over miles of page widths.

I am transmitting the errant ones again, but unfortunately seem to have lost one called Airstrip from my archive, which pisses me off and also means you lovely people won't be able to read it. If I do find it, I will post it in ASSTR.

I am also trying to establish if it's possible to delete the wrong ones so as not to confuse people and I also want to know how to edit my profile, for instance update it and add my email address, as I can't find a way of doing it. If any of you nice folk know, please advise.

Thanks and again – sincere apologies
